

COOLIDGE PAYS TRIBUTE TODAY TO ROOSEVELT

Letter From President Read at Dedication of Roosevelt Home—Tells of Nation's Gratitude to Latter

SAYS HE SAVED NATION
FROM CLISS CHANGE

Associated Press
NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—President Calvin Coolidge's tribute to Theodore Roosevelt in the form of a letter was read today at the dedication of Roosevelt Home, No. 28 East 20th Street, by Mrs. John Henry Hammond, president of the Woman's Roosevelt Memorial Association. President Coolidge's letter was as follows:

"It is a source of deep regret that it is impossible for me to take part in person in the dedication of Roosevelt House. On a previous occasion, I indicated my deep interest in the project now happily completed. The Woman's Roosevelt Memorial Association, in re-creating the house where Theodore Roosevelt was born, and making it a center for the promulgation of his ideas, has made not only the friends of this great American, but all Americans, its debtors. The great collections of their brother-society, the Roosevelt Memorial Association, will bring before the eyes and minds of the generations to come the aspirations, the achievements, the exuberant and captivating personality of the great interpreter and apostle of the American spirit. To do that is to render a great service. If I might speak for the American people, it would be to express their thanks."

"It was not mere poetic fancy which impelled the ancient Greeks to people the firmament with their mythical heroes. A great nation here, a Washington, a Lincoln, a Roosevelt, does shine like a star to the people who come after him. In them they find light; and by them they can steer their course over uncharted and stormy seas."

"Fourteen years ago, standing also at a birthplace which has become a national shrine, Theodore Roosevelt said Washington and Lincoln: 'There have been other men as great and other men as good; but in all the history of mankind, there are no other two great men as good as these, no other two good men as great.' Among the great who were also good; among the good who were also great, we may now inscribe a third name, forever memorable."

"The fame of other men may fear the onslaught of time; but the fame of Roosevelt need not fear it. The glory of his statesmanship may be obscured by the passage of the centuries; but the memory of the man himself will endure; for great as his achievements were, the man was even greater than the work. Such gifts as his are rare, such a combination of gifts is still more rare; and those gifts, backed by a certain elemental force, projected on the last generation a personality which holds a place which not our own nation only, but all nation reverence."

"We Americans have deep cause to be grateful that 65 years ago today, Theodore Roosevelt, half of the North, half of the South, a son of the East, an adopted son of the West, came to this nation to shape its destinies in a critical hour. Roosevelt, like Lincoln, was in a true sense a preserver of our national unity. Lincoln saved us from sectional cleavage, Roosevelt saved us from class cleavage. So swiftly at times does the true word, courageously spoken, establish itself that today we have almost forgotten that there was a time when the regulation of corporations seemed to many minds unecessarily radical. He spoke stern words where needed without fear and without favor. He pointed out the road of straight Americanism where all could walk in unity to ward the same goal. We are a united nation; we will remain a united nation. It was Roosevelt who taught us that unjustified discontent finds no lodgment in a nation where the discontent which is justified secures a prompt remedy."

"All eyes may well turn reverently today to the birthplace of Theodore Roosevelt, given back to the world by the women and children of the nation. All artificial distinctions have fallen from him; he belongs to all Americans. Reaching beyond our shores, he is the possession of all men, whatever their race, whatever their color, whatever their creed, who are willing to live by his principles and follow his example."

JUDGE MANRING OUTLINES PLATFORM

Favors Economical City Administration, Greater and Better City

J. L. Manring has outlined the platform on which he is running for city commissioner as follows:

To the Voters of Middlesboro:

In announcing myself as a candidate for Commissioner, subject to your approval at the polls, November 6, I believe it my duty to take you fully into my confidences in regard to the platform on which I stand, and my aims, desires, and plans for the city in the future, in case you should honor me by electing me to the office. I have faith in the future of this city and hope to live to see the day when the population shall exceed the dreams of its founders and number more than 25,000, and all that is required for the realization of this dream is earnest and united work on the part of the citizens. Having nothing to conceal, and being the candidate of no faction, party or administration, I want you to know how I stand in regard to the affairs of the city.

First—I am in favor of an honest, economical administration of the city's finances, and with this end in view shall insist on an annual auditing by a certified accountant, and a monthly published statement, both of the receipts and disbursements of the city's finances.

Second—I shall favor the lowest possible rate of taxation, consistent with the city's best interests, but shall insist that there be no lowering of the appropriations for the wonderful school system we now have, nor the street and other improvements. I shall favor a ten-year plan to secure these improvements, believing that before the expiration of that period they will more than repay the money guaranteed for their improvements.

Third—I shall encourage the location of manufacturing establishments in the city, knowing that weekly, semi-monthly and monthly payrolls are essential to a city's growth, and in the near future will increase the number of the city's inhabitants to, at least, double its present population.

Fourth—I shall insist that the automobile tax be kept as a separate fund to be devoted entirely to the cleaning and upkeep of the streets. Those who use the streets should pay for their repair, but the money they pay should be used for the purpose of keeping them in good condition.

Fifth—I believe in law and order, and for Middlesboro and its citizens, first, last and always. I believe that every employee of the city, everyone on the city's payroll, should do his duty without shirking, show no favoritism, and do an honest day's work for each dollar paid him.

Sixth—I favor the appointment of a motor traffic officer whose duty it will be to put a stop to reckless driving. Speed maniacs and intoxicated drivers are a menace to the men, women and children of this city and should be arrested and not only fined but given jail sentence as well.

This is the platform on which I stand, and for which I solicit your votes. I have faith in the future of the city, and what will benefit you will benefit me, and what will injure you will injure me. Our interests are identical and if elected I shall spare no effort to serve to the extent of my ability, and to safeguard your interests as my own. I have no ambitions to gratify. You have already given me proof of your confidence by electing me to every office within the gift of the municipality, and my only desire to serve and benefit you, could lead me again to become a candidate. I have no axe to grind, no friends to reward, no enemies to punish, and with an eye single to what I conceive to be the best interests of the city, shall do my part in the management of its affairs, with the same energy, honesty of purpose, and unflinching zeal, as if they were my own individual and personal business affairs.

November 6, is the day to select the men to represent you, who having nothing to ask for themselves, and untrammelled by party pledges, and unsuayed by any factions, will devote their ability, experience and time to the public service, having nothing at heart but the best interests of Middlesboro. Some of my "friends" are still circulating stories and hitting below the belt in their efforts to defeat me; and for that reason I ask my friends and supporters to spend election day at the polls calling the attention of the voters to the platform on which I stand, and which I promise to carry out to the best of my ability in the event of my election. I have never knowingly violated a promise made the citizens in the past and never shall in the future.

Whatever may be your decision in regard to my candidacy, I shall accept it without repining, and shall continue in the future, as in the past, to give my best efforts towards insuring its future prosperity and growth.

Yours for a greater and better city,
J. L. MANRING.

TWO DEATHS OCCUR IN SAME FAMILY THIS MORNING AT HIGNITE

Two deaths in the same family, within three and one-half hours of each other occurred this morning at Hignite Mining company coal camp. Mrs. Ruth Carroll, aged 45, dying at 5:30 a. m., and her little granddaughter, Mary Carroll, aged 2 weeks, dying at 9 a. m. The former will be buried at Hensley cemetery tomorrow, funeral services being at 10 a. m. The baby will be taken to Davisburg for burial tomorrow.

Mrs. Carroll is survived by her husband, Wally Carroll, three sons, Harrison, Roy and Jim, and two daughters, Mrs. Alice Mason and Mrs. Myrtle Lookadoo. The baby was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Carroll.

SET DATE FOR OTTAWA DRY CONFERENCE

Canadian-U. S. Discussion of Prohibition Last Week of November to Be Broader in Scope Than Planned

SMUGGLING LIQUOR AND NARCOTICS TO BE DEALT WITH

Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—The last of November, the 26, has been agreed upon as the date for the Ottawa conference of Canadian and Washington officials on prohibition, it was announced here today. It was indicated the conference would be broader in scope than was originally planned. Treasury officials desire a discussion of the whole border problem of smuggling and will propose that smuggling either liquor or narcotics be put on a list of extraditable offenses. It is believed here that Canadian officials favor that view.

CONSIDER TRADE IN MIDDLESBORO WEEK

Merchants Plan Campaign in November to be Extensively Advertised

A "Trade-in-Middlesboro Week" is being considered by members of the Middlesboro Merchants' Association and the proposition will be discussed at the meeting of the organization at the Elks Home at 7:30 Thursday night.

The date of the campaign has not been decided although it will be in November. Thus and other details will be discussed at the meeting. Tentative plans for the advertising event include attractive window displays, perhaps a drawing contest and booster automobile tips through the country and around Middlesboro.

Members of the association are looking forward with interest to the meeting Thursday night, this being the only meeting of any consequence since the Harvest Festival.

Week's Weather Forecast

Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Weather outlook for week: Ohio valley and Tennessee, considerable cloudiness; showers at beginning and again the latter part; temperature near normal.

Navy By-Products

"The navy in aircraft, atom and navy experimentation and development promise to be invaluable to the development of aircraft for civilian uses. I look to the day when aircraft will be a tremendous commercial asset, and the navy and army more than any other agencies are bringing that day forward. Along the whole path of our progress, it is astounding the number of by-products that have been checked off by the navy. While defense has been the prime object, the civilian by-products that have resulted from naval experimentation and study have in themselves been worth our whole naval expenditures."

"The lesson of Navy Day? It is this: 'Our freedom, the safety of our families, the institutions we prize, all demand that we maintain a proper defense.'

"For the sake of our children and our children's children we must build up and then properly maintain our treaty navy. It is my hope that Navy Day will help spread the understanding of that need."

NAVY A BIG FACTOR IN AID TO U. S. PROGRESS, SAYS ROOSEVELT

Washington, Oct. 27.—"Navy Day," Oct. 27.

Placards and posters with their cryptic message are plastered all over our towns and cities—east, west, north and south. What does it mean? Wasn't our whole navy program and policy settled two years ago by the Conference on Limitation of Armament?

Seeking the answer to these questions at the source, I went to see Theodore Roosevelt, acting secretary of navy during the absence, with an injured foot, of Secretary Denby. Navy Day, by the way, also is the birthday anniversary of Roosevelt's famous father, the great "Teddy."

"What's this Navy Day thing?" I inquired. "Why is Navy Day? What is it? What's the big idea behind the whole thing?"

The acting secretary grinned a typically Roosevelt smile.

"Fine!" he exclaimed. "You're asking just the questions we want everybody to ask. Smoke a cigarette. Got a match?"

Matches and cigarettes traded, and the smokes going good, Roosevelt got down to cases.

Educational

"Navy Day," he said, "is a day set aside especially for informing the public on the importance and needs of the navy. It is a day to catch the interest of citizens everywhere—in the middle west and west as well as along the coasts—on the subject of our naval development."

"Prior to the conference on naval limitation, our naval programs were always shaped by the tag-of-war between the big and the little navy folks; between those who wanted us to have incomparably the strongest navy on earth and those who wanted virtually no navy at all."

"The arms conference, for the first time, gave us a definite mark at which to aim. It committed us to a definite naval policy—that of a navy equal to Great Britain's and 40 per cent larger than any other navy."

Navy Unbalanced

"At this time we have not got a treaty navy. Our naval strength is not balanced. We lack essential elements, including mine-laying submarines, scout submarines, scout cruisers and certain modernized equipment on board our capital ships. Our mission is now to create a balanced and adequate treaty navy. We will undertake no building plans in the unrestricted classes which might be said to reopen naval competition, but we must endeavor to put ourselves on a parity with the radio allowed us."

"Of course the prime reason for a navy is defense. Our navy is the shield which prevents an enemy from striking at our vitals. It is also the right arm of the State Department, visualizing and translating its policies into action."

"But as an aid to civilian progress the navy also is a tremendous factor. Andrew Carnegie once said that the navy was responsible for the development of the vast steel industry in this country."

"The navy was the parent of the terrific radio development of the past few years. The first broadcasting was done by the navy from Arlington as long ago as 1905. The development of radio has been in no small part due to the constant experimentation of the navy."

Navy By-Products

"The navy in aircraft, atom and navy experimentation and development promise to be invaluable to the development of aircraft for civilian uses. I look to the day when aircraft will be a tremendous commercial asset, and the navy and army more than any other agencies are bringing that day forward. Along the whole path of our progress, it is astounding the number of by-products that have been checked off by the navy. "The lesson of Navy Day? It is this: 'Our freedom, the safety of our families, the institutions we prize, all demand that we maintain a proper defense.'

"For the sake of our children and our children's children we must build up and then properly maintain our treaty navy. It is my hope that Navy Day will help spread the understanding of that need."

WOMEN HAVE FULL PROGRAM

Presbyterians Here District President and Prominent Knoxville Pastor

About fifty women were in attendance here yesterday at the group conference of the Presbyterian women of Pineville and Middlesboro, yesterday, at the First Presbyterian Church.

Some excellent reports were given, particularly those by the presbyterial president, Mrs. John L. Calloway of Knoxville, and the address in the afternoon by the Rev. E. E. Galbraith of the "Challenge of the Century."

Mrs. Hugh Allen had charge of the program, which followed the order announced with a few exceptions. Reports of the synodical meeting and the Montreat Sunday School conference, given by Miss Lena Rollins and Miss Nell Putman, respectively, of Pineville were especially good. Mrs. Calloway's talk was particularly good. She emphasized especially the value of personal work in Christianity, as did Miss Rollins in the devotionals. Mrs. Calloway began her question box this morning, to be finished this afternoon.

The church was attractively decorated in flowers and the dining room downstairs where the lunch was served at noon was also decorated. Mrs. W. K. Evans was in charge of the lunch.

With the word of Paul: "God forbid that I glory except in the cross of Jesus Christ" as a text, the Rev. Elmer L. Gibson, pastor of the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian church of Knoxville, made an impressive address to the women in the afternoon.

"A great many people have the idea that the church is a great institution to administer to all the needs of mankind and this is true to a certain extent," he said, "but in carrying out the institution and idea the real purpose is often neglected. The great mission of the church is to seek and save that which is lost."

"There are two forces constantly at work in the world good and evil. Since the world is in its most abiding time today and it is the great duty of Christian people to combat the forces of evil."

Rev. Galbraith is a powerful speaker and held the attention of the congregation well. After the close of the address he more firmly impressed the central thought of his speech by a brief prayer. He returned to Knoxville on the 3 o'clock train.

Miss Weinstein at Piano

Miss Lillian Weinstein played the piano for the Girl Scout concert on Thursday night at the Kiwanis ladies' hall, instead of Mrs. W. C. Stair, as given in the Daily News report.

SEN. STANLEY TO BE HERE MONDAY

Former Governor of Kentucky Will Speak at Manning to Democrats

Sen. A. O. Stanley, nationally prominent Democrat, will arrive in Middlesboro at 6:40 Monday morning. He will breakfast at the Cumberland hotel with a few local friends and will speak at the Manning theatre at 2:30 o'clock Monday afternoon in the interest of Fields for governor.

Sen. Stanley has made an enviable record, not only as governor of Kentucky, but also in the United States senate. He came into national prominence in the latter office by his investigation of the steel trust, a work that was satisfactory to the representatives of the industry as well as the government.

He has made three speeches in Kentucky in the interest of the Democratic nominee, Middlesboro being one of the few towns to be honored by his presence. He has been in Middlesboro on other occasions and was a conspicuous figure in the Liberty Loan campaign in this section.

The speaker who will introduce the senator has not been selected yet. A. E. Rhorer, who is active in making arrangements for the event says that some prominent local woman Democrat will probably do this. The Manning theatre has a large seating capacity and is a very comfortable building for such a meeting. Women are particularly invited to be present to hear the speaker's message.

ROAD MEETING AT PINEVILLE MONDAY

Asheville Highway Boosters Will Confer With Enthusiasts of This Section

In the interest of good roads for this section, citizens of Middlesboro, Corbin, Bryansville and Pineville will meet at the latter town Monday, with S. Backner and Charles O'Connor Asheville road boosters. The hour for the meeting has not been announced. A number of local citizens expect to attend.

The road to Mt. Vernon a part of which is being improved, will claim a major part of the discussion, according to local citizens who will attend.

Hawaii Advertiser

Honolulu—Hawaii's will tell you it pays to advertise. Last spring they began telling their mainland brethren that the islands were considerably more than just a winter resort. Ads in leading periodicals set forth advantages of Hawaii's summer climate. Result was thousands of tourists whiled away the warm months in the "Paradise of the Pacific." And the thermometer didn't soar above 85.

RHINELAND REPUBLIC IS HOLDING OWN

Great Britain Said to Oppose Attempt to Set Up Independent Government—Riots in Ruhr Continue

NUMBER OF CASUALTIES REPORTED IN SECTION

Associated Press
DUESSELDORF, Oct. 27.—The Rhineland republic is holding its own with some accessions. Over night a few disorders were reported as Belgian and French troops continue to police or supervise policing of towns held by separatists. Curfew in the right bank of the Rhine, however, is considered unpromising for immediate extension of the republic to the Ruhr.

LONDON, Oct. 27.—It is stated in authoritative circles here today that Great Britain is opposed to attempts to set up an independent government of the Cologne area which is held by British forces. It is stated to be contravention to the Versailles treaty and to interfere with the present orderly and lawful condition of that area.

DUESSELDORF, Oct. 27.—Food and unemployment riots accompanied by pillaging and resulting in clashes with authorities were reported at various towns throughout the Ruhr. There were many casualties. Twenty persons were killed, 15 wounded at Bochum and a few were killed at Duisburg.

BELL SCHOOL BOARD TO SEEK REELECTION

All of Present Members But One Petition Under District Election

The following letter announces the names of the candidates for county school board, nominated by petition and to be voted on at the November election, practically continuing the present county school administration, of which Camie Wilson is superintendent. All of the members are hold-overs with the single exception of D. M. Maxwell, who replaces J. C. Hembree, a member for several years. The letter from W. T. Robbins, present member of the board and candidate for re-election, follows:

"Wasioto, Ky., Oct. 23, 1923.

"Editor, Pineville Sun:
"I beg to advise that the following men have filed petitions as candidates for office of School Board Members for Bell County:

"Division No. 1.—W. T. Robbins, of Wasioto.

"Division No. 2.—M. F. Knuckles, of Berebely.

"Division No. 3.—J. W. Parson, of Hulen.

"Division No. 4.—Chester Thompson of Calvin.

"Division No. 5.—D. M. Maxwell, of Middlesboro.

There is no opposition in and division. Mr. J. C. Hembree is retiring from the Board of Education, as he was in the same division as the writer, in dividing the county into five divisions as the new common school law W. T. Robbins and J. C. Hembree in Division No. 1. And I take this method to thank Mr. Hembree for not opposing me for board member. Mr. Maxwell who will become member of the Board January 1, is not new in this work as he has had some 30 years experience as school trustee at Red Oak. We predict that he will make an efficient board member.

"Yours truly,

"W. T. ROBBINS."

No public statement of the board's division of the county into districts or the district boundaries has been given to the press.—Pineville Sun.

ABOUT ONE-THIRD PROPERTY IN CITY STILL UNASSESSED

About one-third of local property owners have not had 1924 assessments made for their state and county taxes, according to W. H. Gagle, assessor. His office will be open for assessment work until November 1, or later, if the books are left with him longer.

Owners of recently acquired property are requested in particular to have assessments made promptly and the assessor says it is better to bring the deed unless the description and location of the property is clearly understood.

NEED FOR ROOSEVELTIAN
PATRIOTISM AND SPIRIT

America is proud of her heroes who are proud of the few out of her characters in world history who can be called truly American and truly representative of the life and principle prevailing in America.

One of these national heroes is Roosevelt. He is distinct in almost everything. He force of his immense energy and untiring will power he not only conquered an immense physical weakness which seemed at first to doom him to an invalid life but he also became a master of men and a leader of political life of first rank.

Roosevelt was mediocre in nothing.
Even in his hunting, his indoor play, his reading, he was head and soul in the job which won for him mastery in all these vocations. When it came to ruling a commonwealth and then the leading nation of the world he again showed his up and down of men and his unimpaired energy as a leader.

Roosevelt was at all times a patriot, a lover of America and American traditions. When our national interests were doubted his light as a leader was flamed up and his rights were asserted in the face of the world.
He was the first to preach preparedness for the inevitable war ahead. When the war did come he was among the first to offer his services. His own personal efforts not being permitted at the battle front, he sent his own son, four of them, and all won splendid recognition, and he made the patriotic sacrifice.

The story of Roosevelt's charm and inspire. It should come, America, and it is an incentive for the creation of his spirit and his patriotism in the hearts of all Americans. On this anniversary of his birth, so fittingly dedicated by the nation as Navy Day, let us recall of Rooseveltian spirit come into the lives of our people and let a new dedication to the ideals of America be made in the hearts of all of them from a great American can it be a nobler emblem of his life and spirit.

Praise

"Praise God from whom all blessings flow—"
We sing, and in our hearts we know
The blessing is not crop nor pay,
Not moneys coined and laid away.

God's blessing is the morning star:
It is the place where loved ones are:
It is the clasp of baby hands,
The tightening of duty's hands—
It is a lover's lifting song,
Heard on a road we walked along.
It is the fact that we can shout
With laughter, when the jest falls out
Against ourselves it is the love
That leads at last to Heaven above.

Epworth Social Well Attended

The Halloween social given by the Epworth League of the M. E. Church, South, at Kenton hall last night, was well attended by members and friends of the church. The hall was beautifully decorated in Halloween style. A number of humorous contests were enjoyed. The Rev. W. K. Moore, Billy Callison, Jean Barry, Chie told a spooky Halloween story. Nancy Chandler Gives Party Today

Little Miss Nancy Chandler was hostess this afternoon at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Chandler, at a Halloween birthday party in honor of her fifth birthday. The house was attractively decorated in pumpkins, black cats and other symbols of Halloween. A feature of the party was a witch hunt, the winner of which received a prize. The following were present: Herndon Thucheson, Ernest Warren, O. B. Hollingsworth, Bobby Rogan, George Clairs, Wozzy Colgan, Margaret Owsley, Snooks and Norma Easton, Gypsy Douglas, Emily Catherine Oaks, Phyllis Caskey, Kathryn Tinsley, Gus Forrester, Richard Judy, Dorothy Judy, Thomas, Betty and John Keegan and Nancy and Billy Chandler, Lania Callison, J. New Desserts

Desserts are often the bane of a housekeeper's existence. The family wants pie and more pie, and so many puddings seem so elaborate and call for so many ingredients that the majority rules and the sweet course remains pie. These desserts are ideal for between seasons, are simple and may be new to you:

Banan Whip

Four large, ripe bananas, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 2 table-spoons sugar, 1-8 teaspoon salt, 1-2 cup hickory nut meats, 1 tablespoon preserved cherry syrup, 1-2 cup whipping cream. Lightly scrape the surface of the bananas with the dull side of a silver knife. This thin coating contains an acid that is hard to digest. Rub through a fine strainer. Add lemon juice, sugar, salt, nuts and cherry syrup. Mix well and chill. Serve, masked with whipped cream and garnish with preserved cherries drained from their syrup.

Cocoa Marshmallow Pudding

One fourth cup cocoa, 3 tablespoons cornstarch 1-2 cup sugar, 2 cups milk, 4 tablespoons strong coffee, 1 dessert-spoon butter, 1-8 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon vanilla, marshmallows. Combine cornstarch, cocoa, sugar and salt with coffee, heated to the boiling point. Stir into milk and cook over hot water for half an hour. Stir in butter and let cool. When cool, add vanilla. Turn into a glass baking dish to chill and become firm. When wanted to serve, cover with marshmallows in halves; put in a hot oven to brown the mallow. This section of the state were expected.

Orange pudding is nourishing as ed.

well as sweet. Any dessert containing eggs and milk has a definite amount of food value that should be considered while planning the meal.

Orange Pudding

Three sweet navel oranges, 1-2 cup sugar 2 cups milk, 2 eggs, 1-2 cup shredded coconut (optional), 1 tablespoon cornstarch, 1-8 teaspoon salt, 2 more tablespoons sugar. Peel oranges, removing all of the white skin. Cut in thin slices, removing center pith. Soak milk in double-boiler. Beat yolks of eggs well with sugar and salt. Add to hot milk, stirring constantly. Dissolve cornstarch in a little cold water and stir into milk and egg mixture.

When custard thickens and coats the spoon pour over oranges and coconut arranged in layers in a mold. Shake mold to be sure that the custard is well mixed with the fruit. Let stand until very cold and stiff. Beat whites of eggs until very stiff and dry. Beat in remaining sugar and spread over pudding. Put in a very hot oven or under the gas broiler to brown. Serve cold.

California Jelly

Two tablespoons granulated gelatine, 1-2 cup cold water, 1-3-4 cups boiling water, 1 cup sugar, 1-4 cup lemon juice, 1-1-2 cups loganberry juice, 1-2 cup seeded raisins, 1-2 cup chopped figs, 1-2 cup English walnuts. Soak gelatine in cold water for 15 minutes. Add boiling water and stir until gelatine is dissolved. Add sugar, lemon juice and loganberry juice and stir until sugar is dissolved. Pour into a mold. Let stand until jelly begins to form, then stir in remaining ingredients. Let stand until chilled and firm.

PROPER METHOD OF PLANTING

The largest sized bulbs are best to buy for the winter window garden. The soil should be good garden soil and well rotted manure, half and half, well mixed with a little sand. The hyacinths and narcissus should be planted in pots that hold from two to three bulbs—the tops of the hyacinth bulbs being just above the soil, the narcissus just below.

The pots should be kept in a cellar that in cold weather is above freezing. They should be kept in the dark at least five or six weeks and watered every three or four days.

The Emperor and Empress narcissus usually require eight to 10 weeks in the dark.

K. OF P. DISTRICT CONVENTION AT LUNCH TODAY

The district convention of the Knights of Pythias is being held at lunch today. Eight delegates were named to attend from the local lodge through R. M. Knapp and Herbert Ralf were all who were able to attend. M. E. Poorman, grand chancellor of the state, presided at the meeting. J. W. Carter, grand K. R. S., and other grand lodge officers were in attendance. Delegates from all the lodges in this section of the state were expected.

BIG TENNESSEE STILL CAPTURED

Officers Get Whole Outfit With 180 Gallons Beer About Noon Today

A large still and complete outfit and 180 gallons of beer were captured by Sheriff Jack Greer, and Tennessee and Virginia officers near Ford's Ridge, in Tennessee, near the Virginia line, about noon today. Campbell Loop, charged with operating the still, was captured. The prisoner and the distilling outfit were taken to Tazewell this afternoon by the Claiborne county sheriff.

The officers came upon Loop just after he had filled the still with beer and had the fire going well. He surrendered without resistance.

Local officers are well pleased with the confiscation of the still and the alleged moonshiner. They say that much of the whiskey used in Middleboro has been manufactured by that outfit. It is located not far from the road and incoming cars have little difficulty in procuring it there.

Officers who assisted Sheriff Greer in the raid are Deputy Greer, the sheriff's son, John Wilson, Tennessee deputy and J. C. Redmond, Virginia county police.

PRUDEN DEPUTY KILLED BY MINER

George Hall, Well-Known Here, Shot Down This Morning Without Warning

George Hall, deputy sheriff of Pruden, Tenn., was shot and instantly killed by Charlie Hatfield, miner, at Clearfield at 10 30 o'clock this morning. According to the reports, there was no quarrel between the men and Hall was shot without warning in the back of the head. The slayer was arrested early this afternoon.

According to the reports, Hatfield was arrested this morning by Joe Johnson and tried for drunkenness and carrying concealed weapons. Shortly after the trial was over he was released and obtained a shotgun.

Hall, a game warden, was talking to a man about a hunting license, the conversation apparently having no bearing on the subsequent tragedy. The officer was standing in the doorway when the latter without a word of warning, it is said, fired one shot which struck Hall in the top of the head, killing him instantly. Witnesses say that not a word was spoken between the two men previous to the tragedy. Whether or not the trial in which Hatfield had been recently engaged was the cause of the shooting is not known.

MANY FROM HERE SEE PINEVILLE-LEXINGTON GAME

Lexington Model high school defeated Pineville high school 33 to 0 yesterday afternoon on the Pineville field. A large number of persons from here attended the game. They report Pineville as making only a fair showing against the unusually well trained Lexington team. However, they expressed admiration for Pineville's spunk in playing the big teams. Pineville will play Somerset next week.

Some of those who attended the game were: Miss Frances Fitzpatrick, Miss Henrietta Gladon, Miss Alice Mohr, Miss Louise Moore, Miss Lucille Short, Miss Margaret Sampson, Miss Bett Marion, Miss Lillian Seay, Miss Freda Easton, Miss Hazel Ham-bright, Miss Henrietta Davidson, Miss Alice Gloster, Miss Virginia Brosheer, Miss Helen Ralston, Mrs. C. Indiana Lady Says She Was Run-Down, Suffered With Her Back, Took Cardui, and Got Well.

Richmond, Ind.—"I thought I would write a line or so, to say that I owe my good health and strength to Cardui," says a letter from Mrs. Cora Courtney, 31 Railroad Street, this city.

"I was all run-down until my family thought they would lose me," writes Mrs. Courtney. "My husband coaxed me to take Cardui, so, to please him, I did, and will say I do not regret it, for I am able to do all my work and do my shopping."

"I have five children, four in school, my husband and a boarder to do for, and I do all my own work for all of us, and find time to play. We all praise Cardui. Every sick and run-down woman should take this wonderful medicine."

"I suffered with my back; a very weak feeling in my limbs."

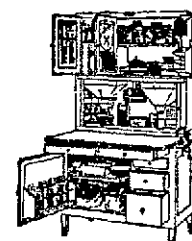

"I felt hardly able to drag; just tired—so tired all the time."

"It was an effort for me to do anything, but Cardui helped me so I felt like a different woman."

If you are in a run-down physical condition, suffering as this Indiana lady says she did, give Cardui a fair trial. It should help you.

Are You Practicing Shrewd Economy?

Are you taking fullest advantage of the money-saving, time-saving, health-building service made available to you by your Electric Company?

Are you having seven days to yourself to live? Is housekeeping dudgey or are you letting the button on the wall do the work?

There is an electrical device designed to utilize electrical energy instead of your energy in the solution of nearly every housekeeping problem.

The electrical energy required to operate these devices costs much less than your energy—your health—your time—and the actual saving in dollars and cents that these devices effect in comparison to other methods, make their purchase a dividend paying investment rather than an expenditure.

Let us place the facts before you.

Let us show you the actual figures on the savings to be made by the employment of electrical energy.

RUSSELL THAW, 12, SEEKS HAPPINESS FOR PARENTS IN HIS OWN SUCCESS

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Oct. 27.—There's a 12-year-old boy here who doesn't like to play. Games don't interest him. Youth holds little charm for him. He is impatient to grow up.

He wants to make up for the suffering of his parents, by the happiness of his success.

He wants the world to think of Evelyn Nesbit and Harry K. Thaw, not as the principals of the most sensational murder trial of more than a decade ago, but as the father and mother of Russell Thaw, renowned surgeon.

Young Thaw is living here in a small apartment with his mother.

"It's the first time in many, many years," she says smiling happily, "that I've been able to have him all to myself. For most of his time had been spent at my mother's in upstate New York."

"But now at last I'm in position to take good care of him. And I hope we'll never, never again be parted."

And they won't—if Russell has his way. His mother's unhappiness seems to have made his love for her the greater, and her attachment to him the closer.

Each night before she leaves for her work as hostess in a cabaret, Evelyn Nesbit goes over her son's lessons.

"He's head of his class," she says proudly, "and the teachers tell me he is one of the brightest pupils they ever had."

When she is sure that his work is complete, she pats him to bed, entrusts his care to a maid, and goes to her work.

"But I never let my work interfere with his learning up," she says. "He comes first, above everything else."

RUSSELL THAW, 12

In the afternoon, while most children are playing, Russell waits on the physicians of a hospital. They let him watch some of their operations. It's his greatest joy.

"He keeps on dreaming," says his mother, "of the time when he will be able to go to medical school and become a great surgeon. Perhaps by his alleviation of pain, he will make up for the suffering of humanity."

"No small dream which I have borne," So she keeps on hoping; he keeps on dreaming.

Perhaps some day the happiness of the child will be visited upon his parents.

RHINELAND REPUBLIC MEANS FRENCH DOMINATION OF EUROPE

(By Bob Dorman)

With the establishment of the Rhineland Republic an accomplished fact, the primary aim of the French occupation of the Ruhr is attained.

Though Premier Poincaré of France officially denies any such aim, such was the prevailing idea, I found, among the officers of the army of occupation when I was with them recently.

Their views of a successful accomplishment of such a purpose, are of interest in the light of what has followed.

First, the establishment of a Rhineland Republic establishes a buffer state between France and a revenue-seeking Germany.

Second, payment of reparations becomes a visionary dream, with the

Your Health

Dandruff

Treatment of the scalp for dandruff and preventing the loss of hair is a most important part of your health program.

It is just as foolish to rub a bald head with hair tonic and expect hair to grow, as it would be to rub the tonic on an egg and expect it to sprout feathers. The time to prevent dandruff and baldness is when you have hair and not when you haven't.

If you have a tendency to thin skin on your scalp, you will have your troubles keeping baldness away. Thin skin, rather tight over the head, does not permit a free circulation to nourish the scalp and the hair roots. If scalp is thick and moves rather freely over the skull bones, your hair will probably stick by you to the last.

Now for the treatment: The two chief aids are cleanliness and scalp massage. A third may be added for good results, brushing the hair. Any good toilet soap or green soap with a little alcohol added will prove effective as a shampoo.

If you insist on a preparation try this one: In one-half pint use 50 parts soft soap, two parts oil of lavender, and 33 parts alcohol.

Massage must be started in early youth, and kept up through your whole life. It is by far the greatest agent to preserve the hair. Use the finger tips to massage the scalp, night and morning.

Brushing should be carried out in a careful and systematic manner. It should be done at night and in the morning. Some other during the day will also prove beneficial. Brush until you feel your scalp warm under the brush movements. It helps to remove the dandruff and stimulates the scalp and hair roots.

Shaving the head or frequent cutting does not help the growth of the hair.

Quarantine

School and its associations often bring the necessity for quarantine regulations and teachers are to be commended for their help in this matter. Those who break quarantine with impunity are doing much to break down the safeguards of health. They may be the ones to repent for helping to foster such bad habits in their community.

Habits of this kind are as catching as the infectious diseases which physicians and health authorities are trying to isolate and stamp out. Their own children may later on be the victims of breaking quarantine.

Isolation and restraint must be imposed on patients suffering from infectious diseases, especially the children. Prevention of contact with those who really consider themselves well is often most dangerous. Every one in the community must be taught to obey. Stealing away your health is indeed a dangerous practice.

There should be no favoritism in preventing to the fullest extent the transmission of infectious disease germs from an infected person to a normal one. Although your case or that of your child may be comparatively light, transmission through too early contact may cause a serious or fatal case to your friend's or neighbor's children.

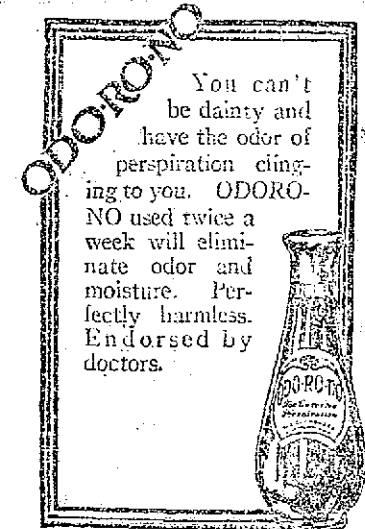

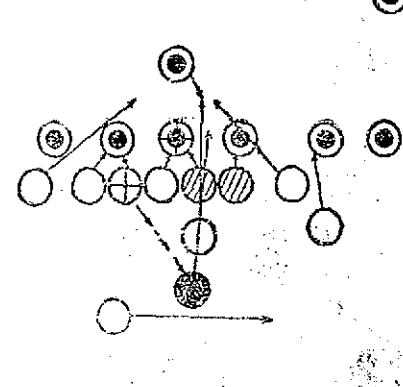

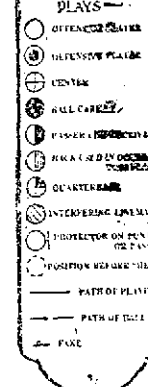

In some diseases the period is fixed arbitrarily. In others, such as diphtheria and diphtheritic croup, quarantine is maintained until cultures from the patient's throat show the absence of these specific bacteria. In eruptive fevers, such as scarlet fever and measles, the quarantine is in force until desquamation has ceased.

DEATH FOREBODING

THAT HELPS CITY

MR. AND MRS. SONDEIMER

MUSKOGEE, Okla., Oct. 26.—Foreboding of death has curbed this city by $250,000.

Prompted by some inexplicable premonition, Alexander Sondheimer and his wife before leaving here on a tour of Switzerland, named Muskogee as sole beneficiary in their wills.

In the legacy it was stipulated that should neither of the childless couple return alive from abroad, their total joint fortunes would revert to the city in which Sondheimer had amassed his wealth by 30 years of enterprise as a merchant.

Before departing each expressed a strange feeling that there would be no home-coming.

No reason for this vague portent was given.

Nor could science pry the riddle either, when two months later word was flashed by cable that the couple had been killed when their auto tumbled over a bluff in the Alps.

The bequest is to be put in trust until it goes to $500,000 and then will be distributed among a number of local charities, including the Y. M. C. A., designated to receive $150,000.

LESSON FOR OCTOBER 28

SOME MISSIONARY TEACHINGS OF
THE PROPHETS

LESSON TEXT—Isa. 60:1-3; Jonah 4:10-11; Micah 4:1-3; Zeph. 3:2.
GOLDEN TEXT—"The Gentiles shall come to thy light, and kings to the brightness of thy rising."—Isa. 60:3.
PRIMARILY TOPIC—The Story of Jonah.
JUNIOR TOPIC—God's Love for All Nations.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—The Prophets as Missionaries.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Missionary Message of the Prophets.

Perhaps the best way to teach this lesson will be to note the message of the individual prophets.

I. The Message of Isaiah (Isa. 60:1-3).

1. Its Central Fact (v. 1). Israel's light, her Redeemer, has come. The primary meaning of this is not the incarnation of the Redeemer, but His manifestation in glory and power as He comes back to this earth to reign as Israel's King. This glorious fact is presented under the figure of a bright sunrise. It will be a glorious morning without clouds dawning upon a dark world.

2. The Ringing Summons (v. 1). Messiah himself calls Israel to arouse herself from her long sleep of indifference and shine forth in the glory of her glorious king.

3. The Darkened Earth (v. 2). In spite of all the progress of the arts and sciences spiritual darkness—blindness touching spiritual things—has settled down upon the earth. It will be peculiarly gross in the last days. It can only be dispelled by the glorious appearing of the Lord.

4. The Blessed Result (v. 3). The Gentile nation shall come into the light, being attracted to Zion by the appearing of the Lord. In the midst of such darkness the sudden appearing of the light shall attract the nations and draw them to Jerusalem.

II. The Message of Jonah (Jonah 4:10, 11).

Jonah was commanded by the Lord to go to the wicked city Nineveh and proclaim its destruction in forty days. He started in the opposite direction in order to escape this unpleasant task. A storm came up and the superstitious sailors threw him overboard. He was swallowed by a great fish and after three days and nights was cast upon the shore. Having learned the needed lesson he went to Nineveh and preached with such earnestness that the whole city repented. The mercy shown by the Lord in sparing this wicked city so angered Jonah that he went out of the city and improvised a shelter where he could see whether God would really destroy Nineveh. To protect the prophet, God made a gourd to quickly spring up and throw a shade over him. When the gourd died and left Jonah exposed to the burning sun he prayed for death. The particular message of Jonah is that God is great in mercy to all the nations when they penitently turn unto Him from their sins.

III. The Message of Micah (Micah 4:1-3).

In this message the prophet portrays the blessings of the Messiah's Kingdom in the last days. Three things are predicted:

1. The Supremacy of His Kingdom (v. 1). It shall be exalted above all the kingdoms of the earth. Its glory shall attract the people from afar.

2. The Extent of It (v. 2). Many nations shall come with the urgent request that others accompany them. The kingdom of Messiah shall be universal. It shall extend from sea to sea and from the river to the ends of the earth.

3. It Shall Bring Peace (v. 3). Enmity will then be taken from men's hearts and they will love each other. When their hearts are changed they will no longer wage war against each other, they will even destroy their implements of warfare. War will continue till men's hearts are regenerated. The way to get wars to cease is to get men to love Jesus Christ.

IV. The Message of Zephaniah (Zeph. 3:9).

Zephaniah declares that following the judgment upon the nations God will turn the people from their impure speech so that they may call upon Him. He declares that God's will is that all nations turn from their filthy conversation and call upon Him. He desires that all nations should come unto Him.

WORDY BATTLE ENSUES BETWEEN BISHOP AND EDUCATOR ON YOUTH

PROFESSOR EDWARD A. ROSS (LEFT) AND BISHOP THOMAS NICHOLSON

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 27.—Whether bound is America's youth—the same youth entitled by precedent to its fling?

Of such grave import is the question, that an eminent bishop and a distinguished educator are locked in controversy over it.

From respective pulpits and rostrums, each hurls wordy challenge at the other's views, while their verbal rapier meanwhile cross at loggerheads and draw fire.

Standing in scholarly aloofness, comes Prof. Edward A. Ross of the University of Wisconsin here, to announce that the younger generation is dancing and "petting" itself into moral disintegration.

Some Cheerful Optimism

Regarded as one of the greatest living sociologists, Ross further comments that "we have never known before such pleasure-mad young people. Their entire time, thought and energy are devoted to finding new thrills."

Automobiles, jazz dancing, commercial amusements and the movies, he opines, have done more toward weakening the moral fiber of America—college men and women not excepted—than any other of the institutions which history records.

"Parents today—mothers especially," he says, "are just naturally incompetent, they are too frivolous to bring their children up right."

"Educational institutions in the next generation will have to begin the moral teaching of the young."

Bishop Says Nix

To which Bishop Thomas Nicholson, in charge of the Chicago area of the Methodist Church, replies with hot rejoinder, sending out sparks in all directions.

"Tut! Tut!" says he. "It is ridiculous to think the youth of today is on the down grade."

"Why, the hope of the future is in these young people."

"It is true that the theaters are crowded with pleasure-seekers and the roads crowded with joy-riders. But over against that, let me give you a few more facts."

"There are more candidates for the ministry today than ever before. And they are of higher ability. I ordained 50 in the last 35 days. Seven of the number were graduates from a state university too. And it used to be that we got no ministers except from church colleges."

Battle Still Wages

"In the Sunday schools of our church alone, we have just a few short of 5,000,000 enrolled. And last year there were published and distributed among these young people, more than a billion pages of Sunday school literature."

"While the places of amusement are filled, the churches, colleges and libraries are overcrowded."

"We had youthful criminals in the past, and will continue to have them in the future."

"But the young people of today, taken as a whole are sound."

"It is easy to magnify the seriousness of youthful externals."

Finishing this, Bishop Nicholson gifts his ecclesiastical boxing gloves to await resumption of the battle from the enemy's stronghold.

Just what the next move will be is not definitely known.

Fields Says Act Would Be An Injustice To The Mountain People

Associated Press

RICHMOND, Ky., Oct. 27.—Congressman Jason Fields, Democratic candidate for governor, in a statement here today said he had ordered hand bills printed which had been delivered over would be annou is the time for all it would be an injustice to the mountain voters bill. He asserted that plain people, many of whom had no chance to acquire an education.

Crooks, Beware!

LONDON—Just a tip to holdups, "con" men and others of somewhat shady reputation. London has 21,247 policemen. At least it had when last statistics were published. So, if you want to take a chance, come over right away. Otherwise, watch your step.

"THE BAT" GREATEST OF ALL MYSTERY PLAYS

Flying this way—"The Bat", greatest of all mystery plays and the one play that has made more theatrical history than any other five plays ever produced in the American theater. Yes, and for that matter, in any theatre on the globe.

"The Bat" is booked for the Manring theatre on Tuesday, Oct. 30th. There will be other announcements, made from time to time in the natural course of events but past experience has proven beyond question that even though not one more word was said in advance of the coming of the play, the theatre would scarcely hold those who are waiting its coming.

All questions of its intense interest: its thrilling situations and its general excellence aside, the one fact that makes "The Bat" the great enormous success it is, is the fact that those who have seen it, want to see it again and again. And they do. Many stories grow old with the telling—"The Bat".

Reasons Why We Are for McCord in Preference to Bosworth

1—Because Mr. McCord has traveled over the country and knows the people and knows their needs—Mr. Bosworth has not.

2—Because McCord is a clean, sober man of ability who is not lined up with any influence that would prevent him giving the people un-biased service.

3—Because McCord is opposed to corrupting the ballot and stealing elections. He believes that it is equally as bad to steal votes as to steal money, and to steal an election is an attack upon our system of government.

4—Because McCord believes men occupying such positions should be men of such character as to inspire the youth of the land instead of poisoning and undermining their young manhood.

5—Because McCord advocates election to office of such men as obey the law and believe in law enforcement.

6—And finally I am for McCord and against Bosworth because this race gives Christian people a chance to vote as they pray.

Senator A. O. Stanley

Governor of Kentucky for Four Years

Will Speak

FIELDS FOR GOVERNOR

Monday Afternoon

2:30 O'Clock

Manring Theatre

Republican, Democrat or Independent you will enjoy hearing Sen. Stanley. Fitted with an extraordinary eloquence, a fertile imagination and a splendidly effective voice, matured by a steady application to studies that have been real, courageous and daring even to a fault, the Senator today has no rival on the stump nor are there many who care to affront him in debate. He is speaker who has something to say.
